

Field Goal and Touchdown Follow Tiger Errors and Encompass Another Defeat of Orange and Black by the Blue

YALE FOOTBALL TEAM DEFEATS PRINCETON, 10-0

Tigers Make Two Serious
Breaks, Which Lead to
Eli Scores.BRADEN KICKS GOAL.
LE GORE CROSSES LINECrowd of 41,000 Sets Record
for Contests at Old Nassau.

By DANIEL.

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 18.—The old Nassau stadium was filled to capacity today when the Yale football team defeated the Princeton team in a game which was one of the most exciting of the season.

The game was played at the old Nassau stadium, which was filled to capacity with a crowd of 41,000 persons. The game was one of the most exciting of the season.

The game was played at the old Nassau stadium, which was filled to capacity with a crowd of 41,000 persons. The game was one of the most exciting of the season.

The game was played at the old Nassau stadium, which was filled to capacity with a crowd of 41,000 persons. The game was one of the most exciting of the season.

The game was played at the old Nassau stadium, which was filled to capacity with a crowd of 41,000 persons. The game was one of the most exciting of the season.

The game was played at the old Nassau stadium, which was filled to capacity with a crowd of 41,000 persons. The game was one of the most exciting of the season.

The game was played at the old Nassau stadium, which was filled to capacity with a crowd of 41,000 persons. The game was one of the most exciting of the season.

The game was played at the old Nassau stadium, which was filled to capacity with a crowd of 41,000 persons. The game was one of the most exciting of the season.

The game was played at the old Nassau stadium, which was filled to capacity with a crowd of 41,000 persons. The game was one of the most exciting of the season.

The game was played at the old Nassau stadium, which was filled to capacity with a crowd of 41,000 persons. The game was one of the most exciting of the season.

The game was played at the old Nassau stadium, which was filled to capacity with a crowd of 41,000 persons. The game was one of the most exciting of the season.

SCENE IN STADIUM AT OLD NASSAU, A MOMENTOUS PLAY AND HEROES OF THE ELI AND TIGER FOOTBALL TEAMS

SOME OF THE 41,000 PERSONS WHO SAW THE CONTEST.

The second try and he was downed before he could gain an inch. With Herberger's rage the Tigers responded to the pleading of Jack Eddy for another stand for old Princeton; with the power of a troop of Titans the muscle bruised and spirit sore Tigers smashed themselves at the counter attack, and the tide was stemmed.

Tiger Goal Is Crossed.

But not for long. Again the Yale battering ram aimed itself at left tackle and this time the stalwart McLean could no longer hurl the enemy back. Just enough of an opening was made for Legore to slip through and place the ball just over the final chalk mark. Princeton's goal line had been crossed, a feat which seven previous opponents this season had been unable to accomplish.

Like the Harvard-Princeton contest last Saturday, the game today was not a clean exhibition of football. It was a struggle with mechanical and strategic mistakes, most of which stood out with glaring prominence. However, it was a game of interest and excitement.

La Roche was Yale's eleventh hour selection for the quarterback position because of sudden illness of Smith, the regular incumbent. Last night Smith was seized with a fever and his temperature rose to 103. The weight of the responsibility which was about to rest on his shoulders and practice in the wet left Smith a fever tossed patient in New Haven while La Roche tried to run the team according to the system which had been laid down for the regular.

La Roche Only Fair.

For a last minute choice La Roche did well, but he left a lot to be desired by the Yale fans. He was not a quarterback play. La Roche could not carry the ball with any degree of success and on many occasions his choice of play was a poor one. Consultations with his men were frequent.

Eddy was a more hearty quarterback, but his old bete noire, a hideous nightmare for the Tiger general. He was guilty of three fumbles, two of which he recovered and one of which he did not. The fumble which he did not recover accounted for the fourth and last Tiger fumble, the now famous one which gave Black a chance to start his team on the road to a touchdown.

As for Yale fumbles, they were absolutely absent. Not only did the Eli hold on to the oval, but they were in the possession of it for most of the game. Some of the players rushed to protest to Nat Tufts, the referee, but their efforts at protest were of no avail.

Tufts waved the protesters off, and Yale put the ball in play with a two yard rush by Legore. Neville made two more, and Capt. La Roche was held to a similar fate.

A Break of a Lifetime.

On the fourth down Braden dropped back to kick a field goal from twenty-eight yards. At that stage the three points took on the huge proportions of a couple of touchdowns, and the Yale players were in a state of intense excitement. Yale had scored, but it was that unusual recovery by Moseley more than Braden's kick that was the key to the victory. One may say to a thousand football games and never see such a break.

Tommy Fortune, that fickle fide, who had given the Yale fans a week before, was not yet done with the sons of Old Nassau. He conspired to produce a Princeton fumble in the fourth quarter by Alan Brown, and that fumble was the direct result of the Yale touchdown. To open the period Legore made the longest punt of the day, a sixty yard kick that sent the ball to a touchdown.

Princeton put the ball in play on its own 20 yard line and no sooner had the pinstriped team passed than Brown hit a six through his fingers. Capt. Eddy Black of Yale, who had been on the scene of just such an opportunity all afternoon, pounced on the oval number that was a flash, and it was the Yale team that was the victor.

PLAY IN WHICH LE GORE SCORED YALE'S TOUCHDOWN—THE ELI STAR IS UNDER THE HEAP.

The game was played at the old Nassau stadium, which was filled to capacity with a crowd of 41,000 persons. The game was one of the most exciting of the season.

The game was played at the old Nassau stadium, which was filled to capacity with a crowd of 41,000 persons. The game was one of the most exciting of the season.

The game was played at the old Nassau stadium, which was filled to capacity with a crowd of 41,000 persons. The game was one of the most exciting of the season.

The game was played at the old Nassau stadium, which was filled to capacity with a crowd of 41,000 persons. The game was one of the most exciting of the season.

The game was played at the old Nassau stadium, which was filled to capacity with a crowd of 41,000 persons. The game was one of the most exciting of the season.

The game was played at the old Nassau stadium, which was filled to capacity with a crowd of 41,000 persons. The game was one of the most exciting of the season.

The game was played at the old Nassau stadium, which was filled to capacity with a crowd of 41,000 persons. The game was one of the most exciting of the season.

The game was played at the old Nassau stadium, which was filled to capacity with a crowd of 41,000 persons. The game was one of the most exciting of the season.

The game was played at the old Nassau stadium, which was filled to capacity with a crowd of 41,000 persons. The game was one of the most exciting of the season.

HARRY LE GORE

The game was played at the old Nassau stadium, which was filled to capacity with a crowd of 41,000 persons. The game was one of the most exciting of the season.

The game was played at the old Nassau stadium, which was filled to capacity with a crowd of 41,000 persons. The game was one of the most exciting of the season.

The game was played at the old Nassau stadium, which was filled to capacity with a crowd of 41,000 persons. The game was one of the most exciting of the season.

The game was played at the old Nassau stadium, which was filled to capacity with a crowd of 41,000 persons. The game was one of the most exciting of the season.

The game was played at the old Nassau stadium, which was filled to capacity with a crowd of 41,000 persons. The game was one of the most exciting of the season.

The game was played at the old Nassau stadium, which was filled to capacity with a crowd of 41,000 persons. The game was one of the most exciting of the season.

The game was played at the old Nassau stadium, which was filled to capacity with a crowd of 41,000 persons. The game was one of the most exciting of the season.

The game was played at the old Nassau stadium, which was filled to capacity with a crowd of 41,000 persons. The game was one of the most exciting of the season.

The game was played at the old Nassau stadium, which was filled to capacity with a crowd of 41,000 persons. The game was one of the most exciting of the season.

POLLARD RUNS RIOT
AGAINST HARVARDBrown Halfback, Object of
Special Attention, Eludes
All Crimson Tacklers.

BRUNONIAN WIN, 21 TO 0

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 18.—Brown's football team crept into the front ranks of the nation's gridiron champions today when it completely outplayed Harvard and won decisively, 21 to 0. In victory one man stood out as possibly the greatest halfback of the country, and he is Fred Pollard, the negro player of the Providence eleven.

Undefeated through the season and with its goal line uncrossed, Pollard and his Brunonian stalwarts smothered Harvard under a tack so vicious and so varied as to keep the Crimson almost entirely on the defense, and then only a smattering of defense at that. Just as he did at New Haven a week ago Pollard ran riot. He made gains along the line, off tackle and around end, and not once was he stopped. His dashes with the ball netted each time from four to forty yards.

Although the special object of Harvard's vigilance, Pollard could not be stopped. At times Harvard became so forceful in its attempts to at least check the great negro player official recognition was compelled. Once Harvard was penalized fifteen yards when Pollard was unnecessarily roughed after a brilliant exploit. Harvard tried mightily to distract from the worth of the Brown halfback, but he was the hero of the game. He was head and shoulders better than any other man on the field.

When Pollard finally gave way to a substitute after the third touchdown he scored and the game irretrievably tumbled away in the hands of Brown, the crowd rose as one and accorded him an ovation that lasted even in the second half. Harvard and Brown united in acknowledging Pollard the halfback of the year.

But the sensation, the spectacle and all else of the game. Not only was he a veritable demon on offense, but rarely did he fail to throw a Harvard runner to the defense. His recent four yard passes clearly, not only those of his own team, but also Harvard players, which he intercepted. Pollard was effective in every department of play, exhibiting not one weakness, and he had severe reasons to feel that he had been the falling star.

The Harvard team which faced Brown was weakened somewhat by the absence of several regulars, who were being saved for the battle with Yale to come next Saturday. Except for Brown, who was without consistent power in attack, toward the close of the second period it played the game with Yale to come next Saturday. Except for Brown, who was without consistent power in attack, toward the close of the second period it played the game with Yale to come next Saturday.

Pollard Goes Over.

Three times Brown stormed the Crimson goal line. The opening period after Fred Pollard and his Brunonian stalwarts scored and the game irretrievably tumbled away in the hands of Brown, the crowd rose as one and accorded him an ovation that lasted even in the second half. Harvard and Brown united in acknowledging Pollard the halfback of the year.

Purdy Scores for Brown.

Pollard was charged with the task of making the touchdown, but he was stopped two yards from the goal line. Purdy, who had been the hero of the game, scored a touchdown for Brown. The game was over, 21 to 0.

Middlebury Beats Vermont.

Middlebury, Vt., Nov. 18.—Middlebury defeated the old rival Vermont here today in a football game. The scoring was done in the second quarter. Middlebury's touchdown came early in the second period and was earned by a well executed forward pass from the quarterback to the halfback. Shortly after the kickoff following this touchdown Middlebury found the ball near its own goal line and recovered for a safety, which gave Vermont its 2 points. The lineup:

Forward Pass Completes Victory by Middlebury, 6 to 0 Score.

Middlebury, Vt., Nov. 18.—Middlebury defeated the old rival Vermont here today in a football game. The scoring was done in the second quarter. Middlebury's touchdown came early in the second period and was earned by a well executed forward pass from the quarterback to the halfback. Shortly after the kickoff following this touchdown Middlebury found the ball near its own goal line and recovered for a safety, which gave Vermont its 2 points. The lineup:

Swarthmore Held to Tie.

Swarthmore, Pa., Nov. 18.—Swarthmore kept clean its slate of no defeats, but hopes of turning every game into a victory faded this afternoon, when Dickinson held the Garnet machine to a tie, 20 to 20. Gas Welch, the former Catholic Indian school star, was rushed into the Dickinson backfield in the last period and made the touchdown and goal that tied the score. The lineup:

Welch Helps Dickinson Avert Defeat in Final Minute.

Swarthmore, Pa., Nov. 18.—Swarthmore kept clean its slate of no defeats, but hopes of turning every game into a victory faded this afternoon, when Dickinson held the Garnet machine to a tie, 20 to 20. Gas Welch, the former Catholic Indian school star, was rushed into the Dickinson backfield in the last period and made the touchdown and goal that tied the score. The lineup:

Pennsy Leads League.

Cranston, N. J., Nov. 18.—The Cranston team led the league today in the first round of the Cranston football league. The team scored a touchdown in the first quarter and led the league in points scored.

College Football Results.

At Princeton—Yale, 10; Princeton, 0.
At Cambridge—Brown, 21; Harvard, 0.
At Syracuse—Columbia, 15; Syracuse, 0.
At Hanover—Dartmouth, 17; West Virginia, 0.
At West Point—Army, 17; Springfield, 0.
At Ithaca—Cornell, 27; Massachusetts, 0.
At New York—Weston, 40; Columbia, 0.
At Hoboken—Stevens, 12; Rutgers, 0.
At Amherst—Amherst, 12; Amherst, 0.
At Andover—Andover, 0; Exeter, 0.
At Geneva—Geneva, 0; Hamilton, 0.
At New York—Maryland State, 10; N. Y. U., 0.
At Ann Arbor—Pennsylvania, 10; Michigan, 0.
At Worcester—Fordham, 40; Holy Cross, 0.
At Chicago—Chicago, 20; Illinois, 0.
At Minneapolis—Minnesota, 54; Wisconsin, 0.
At Ames—Ames, 16; Iowa, 10.
At Richmond—Washington and Lee, 0; Richmond, 0.
At Medford—Tufts, 25; Bowdoin, 0.
At Pittsburgh—Pittsburgh, 15; Carnegie Tech., 0.
At Harrisburg—Gettysburg, 11; Bucknell, 0.
At East Lansing—North Dakota, 14; Michigan, 0.
At South Bethlehem—Lehigh, 27; Franklin, 0.
At Durham—New Hampshire, 12; Rhode Island, 0.
At Schenectady—Union, 21; Hamilton, 0.
At Rochester—Allegheny, 7; Rochester, 0.
At Collegeville—Lafayette, 21; Pennsylvania Military College, 0.
At Jacksonville—Florida, 47; Shurtleff, 0.
At Bloomington—Michigan, 19; Wesleyan, 0.
At Evanston—Northwestern, 31; Purdue, 0.
At Reno—Reno, 13; Lawrence, 0.

Continued on Second Page.